The department and the firm itself are ambitious and innovative and continue to seek opportunities for growth and expansion.

We are on the panel of a major legal expenses insurance provider which means that the range and quality of the cases you will work on is high and includes including high value and complex commercial litigation, complex possession and property claims, including landlord and tenant, title rectification, professional negligence, trusts, commercial, insolvency, and general litigation and dispute resolution advice.

We expect applicants to possess a strong legal background within litigation law and have experience of managing a busy, mixed caseload. You will be confident in your own attributes and abilities, able to join and work well as part of a team and possess excellent communication and client care skills.
